How to get to the venue

By road: See the map overleaf or the online version at www.bathgo.org/wessextournament.php. Parking at the hall is limited but residential parking does not apply on Sunday so there should be sufficient parking in nearby streets. Calton Gardens, just above the hall, is probably the best bet. There is a footpath down to the hall.

By bus and rail: Bath Spa train station and the adjacent bus station are a short walk from the hall. Availability and timings of these options have not been checked so please verify your chosen mode of transport well in advance.

Food and drink

The entry fee includes all-day tea, coffee, snacks but not lunch. Pubs and food outlets are nearby, or bring your own.

There will not be a Bristol + Bath Marathon in 2017. It may return on 'our' Sunday in 2018 whereupon anyone travelling between Bristol and Bath should aim to arrive at St. Mark's by 9.30am.

From A367/A36 West After junction with railway viaduct take dual carriageway to just before Widcombe and turn hard right at X

From A4 / A36 East After mini roundabout go beneath railway bridge at Y. Just before Widcombe, bear right behind the shops to reach X

Residential parking restrictions do not apply on Sundays

Try St. Mark's Road. If there are no spaces try Calton Gardens or the steep part of Alexandra Road close to the junction with Calton Gardens. We may have a few spaces available behind the gates to the side of St. Mark's. Ask an organiser to unlock if necessary.
